

GOLDEN OLDIE

By John Lipinski

Do you recall, 1989
Our little girl was born, best day of my life
Both of our families, traveled from everywhere
Wouldn't miss the occasion, you weren't even my wife
Cuz, we both wanted children, that's all we would need
A most precious gift, to come from above
The Lord had provided, a blessing, indeed
Our wonderful daughter, was conceived in love

Now I'm a golden oldie, mem'ries come and they go
I really loved you, just want you to know
That I still remember, though a long time ago
We had some fun, when you were the one, my one and only

I can recall, there were so many times
When you needed someone, you wouldn't hesitate
My number you'd call, with your back against the wall
I couldn't let you fall, I wouldn't tempt fate
And you had some lovers, Lord knows, I have, too
But we raised two children and we're as proud as can be
Two decades of birthdays, even Christmas with you
We don't live together, but you're my family

You're a golden oldie, much younger than me
After quarter a century, you're still rather pretty
Do you remember, when you really loved me
A family begun, when you were the one, my one and only

And I'm a golden oldie, mem'ries come and they go
I really loved you, just want you to know
That I still remember, though a long time ago
We had some fun, when you were the one, my one and only
