

Re-enroll in the Marketplace and enjoy another year of health insurance

Open enrollment is Nov. 1 – Dec. 15, 2017

If you have Marketplace coverage, you'll need to update your account information and re-enroll in a plan by December 15th. Every year the Marketplace insurance plans can change and new options may be available.

Compare your 2018 health plan options

Compare plans on healthcare.gov to see the plan that best meets your health needs and budget. Check to see what plans cover your current medicines and doctors.

Here's what you'll need to re-enroll:

- Marketplace account username and password
- Social security card or Permanent Resident card
- W-2 tax form or proof of income
- List of your current doctors and medicines

Don't wait until the last minute!

The healthcare.gov website is sometimes taken down for repairs. If it isn't working, try again a few hours later.

Don't be late!

If you don't enroll by December 15, you may pay a fee.
