

Opportune vs. Importune

The opportune
are welcome;
people shun
the importune.

To seek and request is opportune;
to badger is importune.

To help and heal is
opportune;
to harass is
importune.

To converse and communicate is
opportune;
to gossip is
importune.

To direct and guide is
opportune;
to lead astray
is importune.

Beneficence and benevolence are
opportune;
malfeasance is importune.

Therefore,
always take the opportunity to avoid importunity.

© Msgr. Walter Niebrzydowski

September 10, 2000

Fr-Walter@nyc.rr.com

www.fatherwaltersparish.org

Opportune vs. Importune