A Message From – Dr. Michael Martin, 4-H Military Liaison & Louetta Jones, 4-H Military Club Program Director

Military children continue to face multiple stressors through parent deployments and other events. This increases the importance of military youth to develop life skills that help them to be more resilient and adaptive to change.

In Virginia, 4-H programs that build life skills are available on 11 installations totaling 14 sites along with accessibility to 4-H programs in all counties and most cities. Opportunities to participate in 4-H range from 4-H clubs to 4-H camps to school enrichment programs.

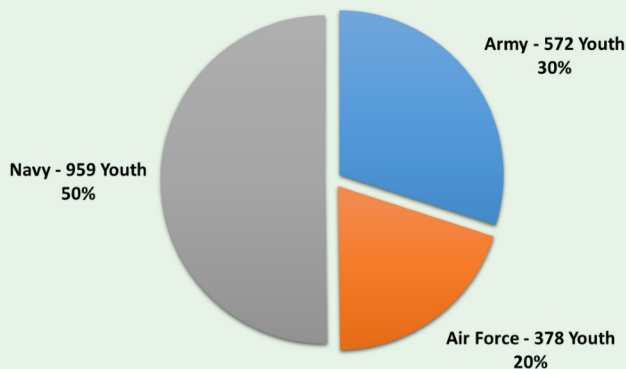

The 4-H Military Partnership Grant provides support to state and local 4-H Extension programs and professionals working with military staff (Army, Air Force, Navy, National Guard, and Reserve) to establish 4-H Clubs and provide 4-H opportunities on military installations, and to increase 4-H participation by National Guard and Reserve and other geographically dispersed military connected youth in communities where they live.

Thirty counties that are not located near a military installation reported enrollment of military youth in local 4-H clubs. However, it remains a challenge to capture the number of geographically dispersed military youth engaged in 4-H school enrichment programs, special interests groups, and camps.

Please continue to read the 2015 corporate report and learn about our many program accomplishments.
