Grain Millers Donates $5,000 to The Health Foundation for the New Surgical Microscope

Yorkton – “Grain Millers let us know in December they would be making a $5,000 donation to the surgical microscope. Their donation brought us close enough that we ordered the microscope. We still had to raise about $12,000 but we were pretty confident we could do that by the time we have to pay for it,” said Ross Fisher, Executive Director of The Health Foundation.

Terry Tyson, General Manager of Grain Millers, said, “The Health Foundation is an organization Grain Millers makes a point of supporting every year. We have nearly 200 employees and you see those people every day, they become almost like your extended family, and just like you want to be sure there is good healthcare available for your family, we want to be sure it’s available for our employees and our customers.”

“We make a point of supporting The Health Foundation each year because we think the work they do improving our local healthcare is important and makes a difference for the people who live in this area.
