

Message From the President of SAAA

WELCOME

The Southern Asia Adventist Association (SAAA) is where members can find an affinity for faith, family and friends; foster a sense of belonging in a new country, away from home; promote religious, cultural, social, and economic interests; create opportunities to serve in the community and country; and support one another in our common endeavors.

The Association has its roots in the Seventh Day Adventist Church and its cultural beginnings in India and in neighboring countries. Many of our members, as individuals, families or as an Association have helped students to complete their education; helped build churches; donated funds through NGO's for welfare programs, helping orphaned children with opportunities of a lifetime. Members have been involved in mission projects both in United States and around the world.

SAAA is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization open for membership to all Seventh Day Adventists who have roots in or connections to Southern Asia by bonds of friendship, mission service or birth. The Association owns an estate house on 18 acres, zoned as farmland, in Brookeville, Maryland, with plans underway to acquire a more suitable multi-purpose facility to meet SAAA's growing needs.

Presently we meet regularly once a month on the second Sabbath, at a rental facility for our worship services and social functions at Eglise Baptiste Du Calvaire Church, located at 10002 Riggs Road, Adelphi, Maryland 20783. We invite you to explore opportunities that are available to be of service.

COME, EXPERIENCE for yourself the uniqueness of Southern Asia Adventist Association!

DR. MICHAEL I OSURI
SAAA, President
