

What Every Parent Should Know About Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Your Child Turning 18

The Social Security Administration (SSA) manages TWO different programs: Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI).

1. When a child with a disability turns 18, they can file for Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

- At 18, when they apply, it's based on their income ALONE, not yours.
- If your family exceeds the income cap, you cannot apply prior to 18, if you make an appointment prior to their 18th birthday YOUR income will be included.
- If you make the appointment after their 18th birthday only the applicant's income counts.

2. What is considered Income? Savings and checking accounts, mutual funds, savings bonds, certificates of deposits, joint accounts, real estate and other resources in the applicant's name will come into play. Any earned or unearned income. Any asset in their name that could be sold and converted to cash will be counted as a resource, part of their income. Be cautious with trusts. Special needs trusts (not in the child's name, but designed to benefit the child) may provide an opportunity for additional funds outside of the income cap. If special needs trusts are not set up correctly, they can end up jeopardizing the person's ability to collect SSI and be eligible for Medicaid.

3. How far back do they look at income during the application process? In our case they went back three years; this could change. If you have savings bonds, mutual funds, college funds, and/or stocks in your child's name (even if they only have joint ownership) you may need to dissolve or move the accounts out of your child's name. Plan for this well in advance, this is not something you want to do a week or two before your appointment. It may be nice that relatives provide savings bonds at each birthday or Christmas, but keep in mind these do add up. They will be listed as income and when your child applies it could make them ineligible to receive SSI. Another thing to be aware of is any wills or beneficiaries your child is listed in, any large sum of money that goes to them directly (even in the future) will make them ineligible for SSI and may also impact their ability to receive Medicaid.

4. Guardianship/Power of Attorney. You will need to decide if you will obtain guardianship or have a durable power of attorney. This is a personal choice, you need to do what's right for you and your child. Guardianship from state to state, and in some cases county to county may vary. You may need to obtain legal assistance. Your local Arc or a neighboring Arc, or a parent advocate group may be able to assist you with this matter. Find your nearest Arc at thearc.org.

5. Will your child/dependent pay rent or will they share in the household expenses? If your child shall pay you rent/room and board, you need to report the amount they will pay. If you charge rent, you will need to account for this on your taxes. If your child will share in the household expenses, you need to be prepared at the Social Security appointment to list everyone who lives in the household, their SS number(s) and monthly household expenses (mortgage, gas, electric, water, cable, groceries, etc). Most importantly, you do not want to say you will provide for all their needs during your interview, this will drastically reduce the amount they may be entitled to, decide before the appointment rent or share.

6. Online application. If you want to save time at the appointment, fill out the application online and make your own copies for your records and to submit at your appointment. Bring a printed copy of the application along with you, in our case all of the meds crossed over fine from the online form, but not all of the doctors information did.

7. Identification. Apply for your child's State ID card long before your appointment. This is necessary to create their financial account and setting up their SSI.

8. Financial account. If you want to use a direct deposit option, open your child's bank/credit union account prior to your appointment. Make sure you have the institution's routing number and your child's account number with you.

9. Supports for your application. Keep in mind, you/your child will grant the SSA access to all of their medical records but there are other pieces of information you may wish to include with your child's application, not available in the medical records, or available but you may wish for them to stand out. Bring copies of documents from throughout their lifespan. If you kept records of medications, doctors, therapies, evaluations, hospital stays, etc., throughout their lifetime it will be much easier to assemble your supports.
