8 The Buzz with Rabbi B

Tzedakah in a Toy Store and at TBS

A fashionable little girl, clutching a wad of money, carefully surveyed the aisles of a toy store. Her search ended as she stopped in front of a magnificent doll with a heart-shaped face and velvet dress. "Do I have enough?" she asked her father. He nodded yes. As she walked down the aisle with her new doll, she noticed another child and father going through the same decision-making process.

The little boy held only a few dollars in his hand. His pants were too short and the sleeves of his jacket were frayed. He grew excited when he spotted a game on the shelf. "This is what I want!" he cried to his father. "Do I have enough?" But his father lowered his eyes and shook his head no. The little boy looked at the money in his hand and then placed the game back on the shelf. He took his father's hand and they continued down the aisle toward a display of coloring books.

The little girl studied the doll she had chosen and then looked over at the game the little boy had wanted. She put the doll back on the shelf and picked up the game. "Do I have enough?" she asked her father again. When he nodded yes, she ran to the cashier with her purchase. After paying for the game, the little girl whispered something to the cashier, who quickly wrapped the game and stuck it under the counter.

The girl and her father stood near the exit until the boy and his father checked out. "Congratulations, you have been selected to win a prize!" the cashier said to the boy, presenting him with the gift-wrapped game.

"Wow!" cried the boy as he opened the package. "This is just what I wanted."

"That was very generous of you, sweetie," said the girl's father as they left the store. "What made you decide to do that?"

"Daddy, didn't grandma and grandpa want me to buy something that would make me happy?"

"Of course they did, honey."

"Well, I just did."

As we look toward the High Holy Days this year, it's important for us to remember the people in our own country, in our own state, in our own city, in our congregation who not only can't afford to buy new toys, but can't even afford enough food. The latest numbers show that right now there are 48.1 million Americans living in food-insecure households, including 32.8 million adults and 15.3 million children. Our country produces more food than any country in the world, yet in every single county in our country there is food insecurity. So what can we do? Let's turn our prayers into action this High Holy Day season.

There is a story of a rabbi who once went to visit his friend. His friend studied Torah while his child cried for help in the next room. The Rabbi asked him, "Don't you hear your child? Why don't you go to him?" His friend, emerging from the reverie of learning, said: "You know, I get so immersed in the intricacy and beauty of Torah that I tune out the world." The Rabbi admonished him, "If your Torah makes you neglect the cry of a child, then your Torah is no Torah." While we sit in prayer on Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur, let us not tune out the cries of the needy in our community, rather let us work to make our community stronger.

For many years, our Temple Youth Groups have run a High Holy Day food drive, where we ask people to bring in a grocery bag full of non-perishable foods. Some years are more successful than others. Because the Holy Days fall later this year, we have more time to collect food that will go directly to help people in need. All of the food collected will go to The Mid Ohio Food Bank, the Broad Street Presbyterian Food Bank, the New Albany Food Pantry, and other organizations in our area need non-perishable food.

When you come to Temple for Rosh HaShanah services, you'll receive a paper bag. Please take that bag home and fill it (and others too) with groceries for people in need. Our goal is to collect 1 ton of food this season. We can do it! We need everyone to participate!

On Yom Kippur, members of our youth group will be on hand to receive the food.

Let us worship with our hands as well as our hearts this High Holy Day Season. Perhaps we too can feel the same joy that the little girl felt when she gave a gift to the boy. Perhaps we can work to make this year a little better for someone in need. Perhaps we can achieve the goals we set for ourselves for 5780!

10 CHAI-er Learning with Rabbi Lenette Herzog

Introducing TBS Teachers and Staff for the 5780 School Year!

We are so excited for a new year of learning, singing and laughing at TBS Religious School!

Israeli early education pioneer Chaim Ginott famously said, "Children are like wet cement: whatever falls on them makes an impression." This humorous line is nonetheless true for all of us who interact with children, as educators, parents and teachers: that the way we model kindness, goodness and the best of our values - inside and outside the classroom, in what we say and how we say it, in actions both large and small - can make a huge impression on our children.

With that in mind, I am so pleased to introduce our teaching and staff team for religious school this year. While many of our teachers and staff are returning, we are blessed to be welcoming six new teachers to our team, most of whom grew up at TBS religious school as students and madrichim. Each and every one of our staff are exemplary models for our students and we can't wait for teachers, students and parents to meet each other starting September 8th, 9am at Camp Hoover!

TEACHERS

Andrew Altschuld (4th grade Hebrew first session / 8-10 electives second session) is an outstanding religious school teacher beginning his third year with us. He is also an alum as a madrich. Andrew is currently a student at the Ohio State University studying English and brings warmth and creativity to all of his classes at TBS. We are excited to have him back for another year!

Jodi Benningfield (Kindergarten) is a 4th year teacher at TBS, but she is a veteran teacher in the Jewish community. We are so lucky to have Jodi, who has been a highly regarded preschool teacher at the New Albany JCC for years and is now teaching at CJDS. She brings warmth, creativity, a great sense of humor, and a love for Jewish Education to her classrooms!

Susie's love of teaching and Jewish education is infectious to everyone on our team!

Marvin Blank, (5th grade Hebrew, 4th grade) along with his wife Susie, is one of our veteran teachers. Marvin has been an extraordinary teacher, who is warm, patient, funny and caring to each of his students. Marvin is a great Hebrew and Judaics teacher who also has lots of musical talent as well. You can either find him in the classroom, at choir rehearsal, or at services. He is married to Susie Blank and is also teaching 4th Grade Judaics during second session.

Lauren is in her third year at Ohio State, where she is majoring in Neuroscience and is pursuing an Occupational Therapy track. Robin is a member of TBS, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, and she's a native of Columbus. Robin brings extensive knowledge of Hebrew and Judaics to her classroom, as well as an easy-going way and great rapport with kids. She's creative and a lot of fun! Gearing Up For The High Holidays

All temple families with current accounts will receive their passes automatically the week of September 23rd. Please help us by making sure your TBS financial account is up to date.

As in past years, we will again be mailing out security passes to be used for the High Holy Days beginning September 29th. These passes are personalized with your name, and we ask you to please bring these passes with you to temple on all visits during the holidays-not only do they provide a security component (since we mailed them to your home), but they also serve as a name tag, which we kindly ask you to wear as you move around the building.

This is the 4th year of wearing name tags. Our ushers will greet you and hand you a lanyard, and ask you to place your "security pass" in the pouch facing out. Why do we ask this?? Firstly-Community is an important concept in Judaism, and especially so at Temple Beth Shalom. One of the many positive things I hear from visitors is how friendly our congregation is, and by having the name tag we encourage each of you to greet fellow congregants by name. Secondly-Safety is a concern for all of us. Bringing your name tag helps everyone enter the building safely, and wearing your name tag helps us quickly identify who should be in our building.

On September 30th, the first day of Rosh Hashanah, directly following services we invite you to our annual luncheon held at the church across the parking lot.

We ask for your help by bringing a dairy side or dessert. Look for more details on how to help with the luncheon preparations/sign-up opportunities on our website and e-window, or by call the temple office. This event is an important part of our TBS history. Monetary donations to help offset the cost of the luncheon are welcomed and appreciated.

Thanks to your generosity, 3 campers received $950 worth of scholarships from the Maryn Schwebel Been Campership Fund!

Notice the trees in front of the playground area?

We recently had a congregant who wanted to plan them in honor of our graduating High School seniors.

When asked further about this gesture, this donor said "With these trees I hope to remind people, particularly the young, of all the good there is in the world. For trees are the longest-lived living things on earth. That doing the right thing, whether in private or in public, is of more value than approbation or credit. I do this, with the knowledge that when the question is asked 'Why were these trees planted when the person who did it will never live to see them grow to maturity?' The answer can be 'Just as my ancestors planted for me, so too do I plant for my children'.

Look for trees to be added annually for each graduating class. We thank this donor for meeting the need to beautify our property.

On Saturday, September 7th at 10 o'clock in the morning, Rebecca Alyse Hess, daughter of Lisa and Mark Hess, sister of Ariel and Emily, will be called to the Torah for her First Aliyah.

Becca is a 7th grader at New Albany Middle School and she attends the Temple Beth Shalom Kehillat Torah Religious School. She enjoys dancing at New Albany Ballet Company and cheering at New Albany Middle School football games.

For her Mitzvah Project, Becca followed her love of animals and volunteered with Save Ohio Pets. She helped put together packages of pet food and other supplies and distributed to the homeless and less fortunate people with pets.

Becca would like to thank Rabbi Benjy and Rabbi Lenette for their support and for preparing her for her special day. They made everything fun and her experience at Hebrew School made it easier to learn. Becca is excited to have all of her friends and family with her to celebrate her Bat Mitzvah.

Jonah Reuven Sela will be called to the Torah for his First Aliyah on Saturday, September 21, at 10am. Jonah is the son of Amitai and Rebecca Sela and the grandson of Aminadav and Rita Sela and Charles and Carolyn Paul.

Jonah is an eighth grader at Ohio Connections Academy and Temple Beth Shalom Kehillat Religious School, where he is a madrich. Jonah has a probationary black belt in Tae Kwon Do and enjoys video games, board games, and Legos.

For his mitzvah project, Jonah is volunteering and raising money for the National Alliance on Mental Illness, including participating in a Suicide Prevention Walk.

Rolling Into A New Temple Year

As we start September and fall approaches, our thoughts turn to Ohio State football (to some a religious experience). In addition, there is reason for high expectations among Browns fans, and Bengals fans have not yet fallen to total hopelessness. As of when this is being written, the Indians have been on a roll that could lead to the playoffs, the Reds still have a prayer (Rabbis, please help) and it is way too early to give up on the Blue Jackets despite being spurned by their stars over the summer. With these and other distractions, such as kids returning to school, travels and what seems like unending rain turning to no rain, we hope that you have not lost sight of the many things going on at TBS.

Various programs such as Lunch Bunch, mahj groups, adult learning programs, and various social groups have grown through the summer. We are looking forward to continuing these activities and adding new engagement groups as the year progresses.

The NCJW Back to School Store was successfully opened and operated to assist parents in need by providing resources for their children to use in returning to school.

The Back to Beth Shalom picnic at the end of August kicked off the resumption of our outstanding religious school with the first session beginning September 8th at Camp Hoover.

As more fully discussed elsewhere in the Window, we will recognize members who have provided extraordinary financial support to TBS over extended periods of time in conjunction with Shabbat services on September 13.

Plans are also well under way for High Holy Days beginning with Erev Rosh Hashanah services on September 29 and including the always well-attended kiddush luncheon on September 30, which will provide you the opportunity to re-connect with old friends and hopefully make some new ones.

We look forward to seeing you at various upcoming events.

20 The Kosher Bookworm

TBS Library News

By Steve Seeskin, TBS Library Committee Chairperson

This month, we have a guest reviewer. Joy Seeskin reviews Around the World on Two Wheels: Annie Londonderry's Extraordinary Ride, by Peter Zheutlin.

Imagine it's 1894, you're a 23-year-old, female, Jewish immigrant, married, the mother of 3 small children who works as an advertising solicitor for several Boston dailies. You live in a Boston West End tenement with your husband Max, a peddler and Orthodox Jew. You're attractive, vivacious, energetic, and petite. You have all this, and it isn't enough. That is the way it was for Annie Cohen Kopchovsky.

In Around the World on Two Wheels, two gentlemen conjure up a wager against a woman being able to bicycle around the world as a man, Thomas Stevens, had done a few years before. Annie had never ridden a bicycle, knew nothing about bicycles but was sure she could and presented herself willing and able for the wager.

Her task was to travel around the world on two wheels in 15 months. She was not to take donations but to earn her way by giving talks on her adventures, selling trinkets and advertising space on her clothes and her bicycle, raising a required $5000 by the time she ended her journey.

Her first sponsor was the Lithia Spring Water Company of New Hampshire. She was given the name Annie Londonderry, as Kopchovsky was thought not to hold the same appeal. She spent time before she started her adventure having handbills printed and collecting trinkets to sell along her route.

There was opposition to a woman riding a bicycle for several reasons; it was not seen as ladylike and some thought women might experience sensual feelings while riding and it would be dangerous for a woman to travel alone. In Annie's case she was leaving 3 small children with her husband.

She began her trip in the expected woman's attire, full skirt, bloomers, and long sleeve blouse. Her bicycle weighed 42 pounds and was cumbersome. Annie had no experience riding or repairing a bike, but that didn't seem to discourage her.

Annie is daring, confident, imaginative, and creative. The book is filled with Annie's escapades some real and some imagined making it difficult to decipher the difference.

Around the World on Two Wheels, is immensely entertaining while at the same time educational about the cycling world at the turn of century including social implications.

Thank you Joy for sharing this book review. The Kosher Bookworm encourages TBS members to submit book reviews to share with their fellow congregants.

The Kosher Bookworm wishes you and yours a Shana Tova (and a year of enjoyable reading). Look for our next The Kosher Bookworm article in the December 2019 - January 2020 edition of The Window.

Deliver Kosher Meals to families at Nationwide Children's Hospital

Bikur Cholim translates to "visiting the sick," but the newly formed Bikur Cholim Society of Columbus does much more than visit. The society provides kosher meals to observant families who come from around the world to Nationwide Children's Hospital for treatment. We operate solely through donations and volunteers who pick up meals (already prepared) and deliver them to Children's and/or Ronald McDonald House. Signing up is easy—just follow this link to the sign-up Google doc for details. <https://tinyurl.com/yd4ulho2> QUESTIONS? Contact TBS Member Deb Rycus at deb.rycus@gmail.com or 614.561.4346.

The Caring Circle Needs YOU!

The Temple Beth Shalom Caring Circle helps congregational members with everything from organizing rides for those who are unable to drive to doctors' and other appointments, to meals for families with new babies. The Circle would love to have more volunteers! There is no obligation.

Interested members can add their name to the Circle's email list and volunteer if and when they are able to. Please send an email with your contact information to the tbscaringcircle@gmail.com.
