

Third X-12 Hillclimb Launches in April Showers

By Ron Dillon

Utah's only hillclimb, the Ocean Star International X-12, fired up for the third year on April 30 and May 1, 2016 at I-84 Exit 12 near Snowville, Utah and pulled a solid turnout of 401 entries from across the West. The attendance was impressive because the weather on Saturday was pretty foul at times and for the first time X-12 was not part of the NAHA Series, not because of any problems, but rather because it could not be fitted into the 2016 NAHA schedule unless it ran in the summer, and as organizers learned, race fans in Utah would much rather attend in the spring in bad weather, than during the summer with perfect weather. Maybe it is a cabin fever thing.

The weather actually wasn't nearly as bad as the last time it ran in April in 2014. Saturday was typical spring Utah weather: rain, sun, more rain, more sun, hail and more sun. Perspective can be given by stating that at the 2014 event, 27 vehicles had to be towed out of the mud, and in 2016, the number of tows dropped to five. Soil dries out quickly here and traction on the hills remained quite good except during the absolute rainiest times of the day. Probably 90 percent of the racers climbed with decent or even stellar traction on Saturday, and Sunday's weather was much better and the traction on Sunday was incredible. Clearly, a hillclimb CAN be run here in foul weather.

Thus, X-12 WILL continue to be held in the future on the last weekend in April. The dirt here dries quickly, holds traction well, and all that needs to happen is to flatten and add more gravel to the roads leading in and out of the property and the parking and pit areas. Then the event can run just fine, rain or shine. The old Widowmaker that ran above Draper from 1964 to 1988, always ran on the last weekend in April. If it was good enough for them, then that date is good enough for X-12, especially with all of the improvements that are planned for the venue in the future. Next year's date will be April 29-30, 2017.

Besides Ocean Star International, a local brine shrimp company, other partners were: Box Elder County Tourism, Excel Fabrication, Workforce Staffing, Bob's Auto Body, Pepsi, Bud Light, Rockstar Energy, C & R Trailer Sales, Frank May Ski-Doo, Amsoil, Rockwell Time, Honnen Equipment, Golden Spike Polaris, Buttars Arctic Cat, Cache Valley Honda/Yamaha, Gearheads, Rupp's Trucking, Renegade Sports and Nish Rock .

Five different hills were used over the weekend. The stock, trophy bikes ran on their own hill on Saturday and not a single bike made it over, many of them looping out in huge fashion. This might just be the toughest hill in the country right now, as far as stock bikes go. The altered hill was tough too, as were the semi-pro, pro and mini bike hills. Out of 381 entries, a total of 86 riders made it over the top of their respective hills. This was tough, old-school hillclimbing. The semi-pro and altered classes also ran on Saturday and as always, the 251-600 altered class was a war, with 43 entries, (it tied with the 251-Up stock 4-stroke trophy class as the biggest class of the weekend...that class was a war too).

Sunday brought out the 450, 700 and Open pro classes, and even though this wasn't an NAHA or Rockwell Series event, the talent was tough and deep in all three classes. Utah's legendary Travis Whitlock had a great weekend, winning the Open Pro and taking third in the 450 and fourth in the 700 Pro classes. Wyoming's Ryan Kendall also had a very solid weekend, winning the 700 Pro class and grabbing a strong second in the Open and fourth in the 450 Pro classes. Tyler Egbert turned in a great ride to win the always tough, 450 pro class, and Karson Lloyd, who is leaving on a two-year LDS Mission in a few weeks, made the most of his last hillclimb for awhile, grabbing 7th in the Open, 3rd in the 700 and 2nd in the 450 pro classes. Look for great things from this young man when he returns.

The organizers again wish to extend a hearty "helmets off" to the sponsors, donators and partners that made things happen at the Double P Ranch again this year. A big thank you is also in order to the ranch owner, Darin Peterson and his wife Jo Ellen, and the small army of staff and volunteers who helped, including: Trustan and Shanna Anderson, Spanky and Brittany Flint, and many, many others. The event could also not have happened without the support of the Box Elder County Commissioners and law enforcement and medical staff.

The next hillclimb hosted by this group will be round four of the 2016 NAHA Hillclimb Series on a brand-new hill just outside Pendleton, Oregon on July 22-24, during Pendleton Bike Week. This event will be the first hillclimb held in Oregon in 30 years and will offer classes for pro and semi-pro racers. And of course X-12 was hosted by the same people who also host Idaho's Big Nasty Hillclimb every year near Boise, which will happen this fall on September 16-18.
