It's keep it real time!

So this past weekend up till today has been a time of sorting out thoughts and a whole lotta waiting!

In my waiting on the Lord to show our family some things, I found myself trying to put my hands on the situation to MAKE THINGS move....

Disclaimer: Those who put their hands on matters that they have no control over get frustrated quick!

I found myself in the exact same spot... waiting. I had to remember that we had prayed, many times, for the Lord to show us - (not me show us!). As of this moment that I'm typing I still have no answers and I'm wondering when the phone is going to ring or when the Lord will show us the next move. I know life's journey is like that – a splattering of walking a little bit and then a little more path starts to show and then I walk some more and then a little more path – I hardly EVER see what's at the end of the path.

Psalm 16:11 - You will show me the path of life; In Your presence is fullness of joy; At Your right hand are pleasures forevermore.

The Lord didn't promise to show the whole picture... He never said He would show where the path ends or leads – but He does promise to show me the path of life (Jesus) and I know that His word (Jesus) is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path so I better get in the Word (Jesus) some more! Wow... I'm feeling that He sticks closer than a brother!

I was on a roll, reading the Word every morning and night and then LIFE happened.... I'm behind a little I must confess so pray for me to catch up! For those who need encouragement – I will pray for you like I did for myself at the beginning of the year – that the Lord would draw me to His word and that I would be hungry for it like a moth to a flame so I pray that for each of you today – that you would be hungry for the Word of God like moths to light and that you would wait on the Lord and not plunge ahead of Him out of eagerness just to hear something.

Blessings to you!

Psalm 17:5 - Uphold my steps in Your paths, That my footsteps may not slip.

Psalm 23:3 - He restores my soul; He leads me in the paths of righteousness For His name's sake.
