Unparalleled excellence in medical education -- ACLES

ACLES programs are medical educational experiences like no other! You'll find no other courses in foot and ankle surgery that compare with the high-level collegial experience ACLES meetings provide. You'll train and consult with the nation's leading educators and practitioners of lower extremity medicine and surgery in a relaxed, intimate environment that promotes engagement between presenters and attendees.

This program features regular opportunity for one-on-one learning in structured lecture sessions, discussions, and workshops. Course content addresses every aspect of lower extremity surgery, from diagnosis to post-operative care. The wide-ranging content enables experienced professionals to stay current with trends and developments in the field, and allows most physicians to acquire their annual requisite CME credits.

Who should attend?

- Podiatrists
- Surgeons
- Orthopedic
- Osteopaths

...who perform surgery of the foot, ankle or leg, their support teams, and other allied professionals with an interest in lower extremity surgery.

Dinner meeting Edward Glaser, DPM Biomechanics of the Foot – MASS Posture Theory I

ANNUAL 20-HOUR PROGRAM

LOWER EXTREMITY MEDICINE AND SURGERY

FACULTY

EDWARD S. GLASER, DPM is a dynamic lecturer and researcher in Foot Biomechanics. He studied mechanical engineering at SUNY Stony Brook and received his doctorate in podiatric medicine at the New York College of Podiatric Medicine. Although not a common path for a podiatrist, it turned out to be the right exposure for a future foot biomechanistic. Dr. Glaser developed a thriving practice over thirteen years and then chose to walk away from that success to challenge orthopedic conventions with his revolutionary MASS Posture Theory. 30 years and over a Million Pairs of Orthotics later, Dr. Glaser has made his life's mission a reality with Sole Supports: 'We make people better'.

STEVEN R. KRAVITZ, DPM, FAPWHc, FACFAS is a Diplomate of the American Board of Foot and Ankle Surgery and the American Board of Podiatric Medicine. He is also a Fellow of the American College of Foot and Ankle Surgeons, and Certified in Wound Healing by the Council for Medical Education and Testing. He is the Founder and President of the Academy of Physicians in Wound Healing (APWH) and the Council for Medical Education and Testing (CMET). He is an Assistant Professor for the Advanced Wound Healing Center, Temple University School of Podiatric Medicine where he has served continuously as faculty for 35 years. He continues to do research and author multiple articles; he is an internationally known speaker on wound healing and related topics.

STEVE A. MCCLAIN, MD, FCAP, FASCP, FAPI, FAPWH is Board certified in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology and Dermatopathology. Dr. McClain has academic appointments in Dermatology and Emergency Medicine at SUNY-Stony Brook Medical Center. He is a member of the American Society of Dermatopathology and the Association for Pathology Informatics. He has a medical degree from the University of Missouri and was Director of the Division of Dermatopathology and Director of Pathology Informatics in the Department of Pathology at Montefiore Medical Center in New York. He is currently the Medical Director of McClain Laboratories and is a dermatopathology specialist in New York.

DAVID NOVICKI, DPM is an assistant professor of surgery, Yale University School of Medicine, Department of Orthopedics and Rehabilitation. Current chairman of the Board of Trustees, Temple University School of Podiatric Medicine. Past president of the American College of Foot and Ankle Surgeons. Past president of the American Board of Foot and Ankle Surgeons.
