Parenting Coordination Training Program

Parenting Coordination is a newly emerging area of practice for mental health professionals. A parenting coordinator typically helps high conflict divorced and divorcing parents to implement their parenting plan by facilitating the resolution of disputes between parents and/or legal guardians, providing education, making recommendations to the parties, and, with the prior approval of the parties and the court, making decisions within the scope of the court order of appointment. In some cases, parenting coordinators may also be asked by divorcing parents to help them develop a parenting plan.

Target Audience

Registration is reserved for attorneys, mental health professionals, physicians, individuals who possess at least a master's degree in a mental health field and those persons who may be eligible to qualify as a parenting coordinator under FS. 61.125. Others may enroll with permission of the instructor.
