

Dora Cojocar is a composer of Romanian descent now living in Montreal, Canada. After studies in music, philology, and history, she graduated with a degree in composition, pedagogy, and piano from the “G. Dima” Music Academy in Cluj, Romania. She subsequently earned a Master’s degree at the Music Academy in Cologne and a PhD in musicology. She is a published author and the recipient of several composition awards.