

Dear Papatuanuku

How I admire your green dress
that flows over you.

Your abundance of skyscrapers that tower
above.

Your bright flower beds that cover
the ground in happiness.

How I admire your tall mountains,
your long rivers
your wide lakes
and your distant oceans.

You are the past, the present and the future.

You are my everything.

A kiwi kid.
