

The Torah Reading Schedule of the Ancient Synagogues: Ancient Triennial Torah Parshiyot (Portions)

Jesus attended services every Shabbat at a synagogue, as was his custom, according to Luke 4. Gentiles who became part of the Jesus Movement were expected to attend synagogues and learn the Torah and the Prophets, according to Acts 15. Synagogues followed schedules for the portions read each Shabbat, along with short portions from the Prophets. Below is the oldest Torah reading schedule known at this time.*

Today, Jewish denominations use schedules that may differ based on whether it takes one year or three years to completely read the Torah. The most important differences are in the portions from the Prophets. The schedule below existed over 800 years before modern Jewish denominations were founded. Using it to identify portions Jesus taught and the dates linked to them is an interesting exercise. And just using it to read weekly portions will definitely help you better understand the teachings of Jesus.

Comparison of Months of Jewish & Gregorian Calendars

The first month of the Jewish calendar is Nissan / Rosh Hashanah New Year celebration is in Tishri. The Hebrew calendar is based on both the lunar and the solar cycles (lunisolar calendar). Months are measured by one revolution of the moon around the earth. The common year in the Hebrew calendar includes 12 months. But there is a difference of about 11 days between 12 lunar cycles and one solar cycle. The Hebrew sages decided that leap year (Adar II) will be declared on the following years of a 19 year period: 3, 6, 8, 11, 14, 17, and 19.

1 - Nissan	2 - Iyar	3 - Sivan	4 - Tammuz	5 - Av	6 - Elul
March-April	April-May	May-June	June-July	July-August	August-September

7 - Tishri	8 - Cheshvan	9 - Kislev	10 - Tevet	11 - Shevat	12 - Adar*
September-October	October-November	November-December	December-January	January-February	February-March

*Adar 2 is like a leap-year that occurs in March-April
