Biography

August Cardillo, 41 of Sterling Heights, born in Detroit, MI June 29th, 1978, made his last wildly inappropriate and probably sarcastic comment June 10, 2020.

Although a less than average life span, August did not live an average life. August was a man of many words; however, he agreed to allow his family, well let's be real, his older sister, to transcribe his final thoughts. "I was born; I blinked; and it was over. No buildings named after me; no monuments erected in my honor. But I DID have the chance to know and love each and every friend and family member, if I didn't like you, well there's no need to mention it because you already know. (Insert big smiling face here) How much more blessed can a person be?" August was world-renowned for his lack of patience, but had the heart of a lion. August was a fierce protector even while not holding back his opinion. August was also known for long, entertaining stories. Although this ultimate sports fan did not spend his last moments running down the tunnel at the U of M "Big House", he is at peace and will be remembered by all who loved him.
