DAY-BY-DAY ITINERARY

DAY 1: OCTOBER 9, 2022

Drive to Bharatpur

📍 Bharatpur, India

Say farewell to Agra this morning and make your way toward Bharatpur in Rajasthan.

In route you will stop to visit the Agra Fort, a great monument of red sandstone that dominates a bend in the Yamuna River and was constructed by the Mughals during 1565-1571. The Fort contains splendid mosques and palaces in red sandstone and white marble built by two generations of creative builders during the time of Akbar and later Jehangir and Shah Jehan.

Lunch will be provided this afternoon.

This afternoon, enjoy a village walk with your local guide. Learn about the lives of the villagers and interact with the people this afternoon. This will provide a chance to really experience rural life in India, working alongside local organic farmers. Also spend time with the village children and the elderly people alike. See their ways of income generation like making of "Agarbatti" (essence stick), making of "dona & pattal" (bowls & plates), and traditional handicrafts.

Later in the afternoon visit the sites of animal husbandry and enjoy a 'chai' (masala tea) in "kullad" (mud cup).

Settle into your local hotel where dinner will be provided this evening.

Hotel: The Laxmi Villas (or similar)

DAY 2: OCTOBER 10, 2022

Explore the Village

📍 Bharatpur, India

After breakfast this morning, you will explore new levels of service learning at a local school. Experience an exclusive program specially designed to be immersed in service work with local students and build lasting relationships through education and cultural exchange. Assist in a variety of roles from teaching English to helping with computer education.

This afternoon visit a local family in the village and enjoy a traditional sit down meal with them for lunch.

This afternoon visit Keoladeo Ghana National Park, a small but important bird sanctuary. Originally a duck-shooting preserve, the wetland is now a world-renowned birding destination. In 2008, the water levels were increased and the habitat now attracts vast numbers of migratory birds during the winter months to swell the large number of native species. Walk or take a cycle along the narrow road to the open wetlands at the end. Common, pied and white-fronted kingfishers are plentiful. Painted storks nest and roost in the trees, while white-breasted waterhens and purple swamphens walk across the mats of water hyacinths. Woolly-necked and black-necked storks patrol the shallow water meadows. Many raptors may be found here, including imperial and steppe eagles, and long-billed and redheaded vultures are also resident. We will keep a lookout for wild boar, as well as spotted mongoose, sambar and nilgai. Rock pythons may also be seen sunning themselves on rock piles.

Dinner will be provided this evening.
