Southeast makes bid for playoffs

HERINGTON — Remember last season when Southeast of Saline's football team overcame a 1-4 start and lasted — winning five straight games — to the Class 3A regionals before falling to state runnerup Medicine Lodge?

Area game of the week

The Trojans haven't been that dramatic this season, but, according to head coach Jim Campion, have played playoff-type football the last two weeks in victories over Smoky Valley (16-8) and Marion (50-6). Actually, the Trojans weren't too bad three weeks ago in a 32-22 loss to undefeated Beloit.

"We've played well since Beloit," Campion said. "The big question mark for us coming into this season was our line because we graduated everybody. But the new kids on the line (all juniors) have come around. We also haven't turned the ball over very much."

Tonight at Tripp Field in The Salina Journal's Area Game of the Week, the 5-3 Trojans will match their momentum against the Herington Railers' momentum — generated by a six-game winning streak — in the Class 3A District 10 championship game.

Herington, like Southeast, was slowed early by the frustrations of inexperience (two freshmen, two sophomores and a junior make up the interior line). The Railers fell to Hillsboro (15-0) and 4A Council Grove (29-6) before putting together its six-game victory string.

"We were inconsistent early because we were so young and inexperienced," said Herington head coach Steve Herrmann, who's in his 17th season at the Railer helm. "But we made some changes in our line by the second game of the season that have helped us. I've been pleased with our play. We've gotten better each week."

Southeast won last year's district contest (27-0) between the two teams, but both coaches are expecting a closer battle tonight.

Campion is concerned with Herington's wishbone offense, triggered by senior quarterback Todd Brown (6-0, 165).

"We've seen the option several times this season but haven't seen the wishbone option where the fullback is blocking out in front of the pitch man," Campion said. "They also will run power plays, some off-tackle and counters."

Campion is pretty confident with his team's ability to stop the Railers outside, but the Trojans haven't been as effective stopping opponents up the middle.

Herington's strength is its experience and leadership in the backfield. Brown is a returning starter at quarterback and is joined by classmates Jon Cox, Shannon Salter and Steve Tatge. All four backs have shared the rushing yards evenly this season.

The Trojans' balanced attack bothers Herrmann.

"They have a good quarterback (Dan Stutterheim) and a good receiver in Fritz (Steve)," Herrmann said. "They also have a good running game with Christlieb. They've just been doing a good job lately passing and running. You just can't key on any one player."

Offensively, Southeast will have to be sharp because Herington's defense has surrendered just 30 points in its last six games.

Stutterheim, a 6-2, 175-pound senior, missed the last two games with a sprained left wrist but will be back in the lineup tonight. He won't play his safety position on defense, however.

The Top 10

Here are the picks and comments of tonight's top 10 games involving schools in the central and northwest Kansas area (home teams in caps):

1. HERINGTON (6-2) by 2 over SE-Saline (5-3): Both teams are playing well coming into this Class 3A game to decide the District 10 champion. The game is a toss-up. I'll give the edge to Herington because it is at home and has won six straight games (three by shutout). The keys for Southeast will be the ability of quarterback Dan Stutterheim to handle the ball coming off a wrist injury and the Trojans ability to do without him in the secondary.

2. Salina Central (5-3) by 6 over HAYS (5-3): Hays beat Central in Salina last year to earn a trip to the playoffs. Tonight's game at Lewis Field in Hays is again for the 5A District 7 crown. Despite some key losses, including All-Area running back Joe Hoffman, Tom Cross has meshed another contending team. The Indians have a dandy quarterback in Todd Windholz, who threw for 248 yards last week in a 20-7 win over Great Bend. Despite those facts, Central gets the nod this year. The Mustangs have played well since being surprised by Topeka West on Oct. 18 and will continue this week.

3. Colby (8-0) by 10 over GOODLAND (5-3): This is a matchup where the coaches and fans involved always throw out any records or so-called key statistics. Colby bombed the Cowboys last season to win the 4A District 16 title. This year's game — considering what Scott City does against Ulysses — could be for the district championship again. Colby should again roll this year.

4. Clay Center (6-2) by 6 over COUNCIL GROVE (5-3): Clay Center must get back up emotionally after a hard-fought overtime win over Chapman last week. If Clay Center wins, it will earn a rematch with Beloit in Tuesday's first round of the state playoffs. If Council Grove wins, it must do so by more than one point to assure itself of the 4A District 9 title. Chapman is still in the picture if it beats Wamego by 13 or more points. Forget all these numbers, though, Clay Center wants another shot at Beloit bad enough not to lose tonight.

5. HILLCREST (7-1) by 6 over North Central (6-2): This game is for the Eight-Man II District 3 title. Neither team is ranked, but both have quietly been consistent winners. Hillcrest has lost only to unbeaten Mankato (34-24) while North Central has fallen only to Mankato (38-20) and once-beaten Glasco.

6. WASHINGTON (5-2) by 4 over Linn (4-3): Two Blue Valley League teams — overshadowed by the dominance of Clifton-Clyde — battle tonight for the 2-1A District 4 title and a state playoff berth against unbeaten Centralia. This figured to be Linn's year with Clifton-Clyde out of the district picture, but with their star running back and linebacker, Tim Winter, out most of this season with an injured knee, the Bulldogs have struggled. Washington will be ready at home.

7. QUINTER (6-2) by 8 over Tribune (6-2): These two teams aren't out of the Eight-Man I District 8 title picture yet. Sharon Springs must win at Golden Plains tonight to guarantee itself the district championship. After winning its first six games, Quinter has lost to Sharon Springs and Jetmore but should bounce back tonight.

8. Tipton (8-0) by 12 over EASTERN HEIGHTS (5-3): This game is for the Eight-Man II District 9 championship. The game's only a great matchup on paper. Tipton should roll into the playoffs with ease.

9. Osborne (4-4) by 2 over VICTORIA (4-4): Two 2-1A schools from the predominantly 3A-4A Mid-Continent play for the District 13 title tonight. It should be close, but Dave Johnson's Osborne team looks a shade better.

10. NORTON (8-0) by 14 over Phillipsburg (4-4): Phillipsburg's only hope is to catch Norton looking ahead to the first round of the state playoffs. P-Burg will have to have plenty of breaks to win. Even then, Norton's defense is strong enough to overcome several offensive mistakes.

LAST WEEK: 9-1 (.900). SEASON RECORD: 57-23 (.713).

Balanced squad leads undefeated Abilene in quest of state title

By TIM HOSTETTER
Sports Writer

Abilene's girls' cross country team is ranked No. 1 in Class 4A and hasn't lost a meet this season. Still, AHS coach Ken Russell isn't predicting any "show up" championship Saturday morning when his team competes in the state meet at Wamego.

"Iola only lost one runner off last year's team and has been overlooked in the polls," Russell said. "I expect Andale and Lyons to be up there along with Chapman, Marysville and Wamego out of our own league. Hoisington returns three off its state championship team of last year. We should be right up there, but we're not a clear favorite."

Abilene scored just 38 points in winning last Saturday's regional at Hays. Hoisington was second with 65.

Rena Hughes and Renee Russell led the Cowgirls, placing second and fifth, respectively. Hughes and Marj Moor are the only two seniors on the AHS team. Hughes' freshman sister, Tina, also is among Abilene's top seven runners. Abilene's other three runners are Heidi Longenecker, Julie Mayden and Jody Shouse.

"They all have been steady all season and we knew at the beginning of the year that we had a group of runners capable of that," Russell said.

The individual favorite in 4A will be Ulysses senior Jill Wood, who hasn't lost a cross country race since her freshman season when she was beaten by her sister. Wood outdistanced Rena Hughes by 20 seconds last week at Hays.

Atwood, Syracuse and Stanton County are among the favorites in Class 2A while Wakefield, Lebo and Manhattan Luckey are the teams to beat in 1A.

The boys' 4A team title race is a toss-up. Lansing, defending champ Wamego, Tonganoxie, Shawnee Aquinas, Augusta, Chaparral, Colby and Abilene all are capable of winning.

"Wamego has an advantage of running on its own course, but we've beaten them there before," said Colby head coach Jack McCracken, whose team won last week's Hays regional with 55 points. Abilene was second with 72.

"It's going to be a close affair," McCracken said. "We saw most of the east teams at the first of the season at the Wamego Invitational. We were fifth then, but had a couple of freshmen running their first meet ever. Now, they're veterans."

McCracken doesn't have a senior on his team. Juniors Chad Bourquin, Joel Kriss and Dan Geschwentner have led the Eagles all season. Bourquin was second behind Concordia's Roger Koester in last week's regional.

Stanton County, Riley County, Syracuse and Berean Academy are the favorites to capture the 2A boys' team title. Stanton County is the defending 2A champ but just edged Syracuse 32-33 in last week's regional at Dighton.

Wheatland is a strong favorite to repeat in 1A. Highland and Grinnell are darkhorses.

Boys' 5A cross country title up for grabs

By STEPHEN WHITE
Sports Writer

Top-ranked Wichita Kapaun-Mt. Carmel is favored to win the Class 5A state boys' cross country meet Saturday at Manhattan's Warner Park.

But the Crusaders were favored last year and did not win. Partly because of that, they are not favored by much this year, according to several coaches, including Salina Central's Doug Smith and Salina South's Andy Deckert.

Central, South and Kapaun are among a cluster of six teams — Hays, Roeland Park Bishop Miege and Wichita Bishop Carroll being the others — expected to make this year's perhaps the most exciting, unpredictable state meet ever.

"This is certainly shaping up as a good race from a spectator's viewpoint and a great race for the kids, because it's wide open," Smith said. "The six schools are all so evenly balanced."

Meet schedule

9:30 a.m. — Class 5A girls.
10 a.m. — Class 5A boys.
10:30 a.m. — Class 6A boys.
11 a.m. — Class 6A girls.
11:30 a.m. — Class 3A boys.
12 noon — Class 3A girls.

All six scored in the 60s last week in their respective regionals. Two other teams — Topeka Washburn Rural and Haysville Campus — could figure in the hunt as well.

South is the defending 5A champion in both the boys' and girls' divisions, and that should help, Deckert said. But the Cougars won't be able to rely on that distinction alone.

"I assume there are going to be some people keying on us," Deckert said, "because we have in the last few years developed a reputation of getting the performance on the day. And that's what it comes down to."

Unlike most races, however, keying on one or possibly two teams — a practice Deckert's teams frequently employ — could be hazardous in a meet this wide open, Deckert said, because those teams might not prove to be the teams to beat.

Therefore, he said, added weight will be placed on: 1) pacing, and 2) focusing on faster teammates instead of opponents.

Pacing could prove particularly important because of the length of the boys' race.

"It's possible — this being the first five-kilometer race (3.1 miles) in a state meet (instead of 2 miles) — there could be some runners who go out too fast and have difficulties in the last mile, whereas in the past those runners haven't run out of gas as far from the finish line," Deckert said.

Runners starting too fast is an annual fear of coaches at a state meet, and is one reason why Deckert and Smith expect only two or three teams to fulfill the hype and contend for the championship.

Junior Darin Brummett and sophomore Jason Goertzen are Central and South's chief weapons. Both could finish among the top five.

But those two are not likely to determine their teams' fates, according to Smith.

"The six schools are all so evenly balanced, if, say, your No. 3 runner gets hot, he could make a difference of 5 or 10 points, which would be a big difference. You could move up in a hurry that way."

Both Salina schools also qualified girls' teams for state, though both finished fourth in their respective regionals and are shooting for more realistic goals than a state championship today.

"I'd be happy if our girls finished in the top half," Deckert said.

In the Class 3A races, Southeast of Saline boasts the top-ranked girls' team, led by sophomore Lisa Robinson, and fourth-ranked boys' team, led by junior Wade Caselman.

Beniquez, Darwin file for free agency

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Juan Beniquez of the California Angels and Milwaukee Brewers pitcher Danny Darwin filed for free agent status Thursday, bringing to 49 the number of players who have taken that action this year.

Beniquez, who batted .304 in the recently completed season, playing in 132 games, was the fifth Angels player to file. Darwin is the first Brewer to go on the list this year.

Darwin said the Brewers' offer of a one-year contract wasn't good enough.

"They started with a two-year offer earlier in the season and then lowered it to one," Darwin told the Milwaukee Sentinel from his home in Arlington, Texas.

"They kept saying, 'Youth movement, youth movement.' I'm older, but not that old," he said. "I think I've got six or seven good years left in my arm."

The 30-year-old Darwin, a right-hander obtained from Texas last January in a four-club, six-player deal, had an 8-18 record and 3.80 earned run average in 1985. And he gave up a league-high 34 homers.

"I've got 25 other clubs I can negotiate with starting Tuesday," he said. "I think they can look at my stats and see my record was deceiving.

"I gave up a lot of homers, but I don't think that will happen again," he added. "I'll listen to all of them and see what I'm offered."
