

Group Travel

No matter how big your group, Earman Travel can handle your group travel needs.

It is extremely difficult to plan travel for large groups, there are so many details that need to be worked out, and we can take care of everything.

When traveling with a group, you earn “comp” or free passengers. Some agencies may keep these “comps” as bonus commissions, but Earman Travel believes that the travelers should reap the benefits, so we always hand the earned comps back to the group. If one person brings the group to us, they get the comp...if it is a group that comes to us as a whole, we will split up the savings from the comps and offer them as a smaller discount to every passenger.

We also offer several group trips a year sponsored by Earman Travel. We send one of our agents on the trip to make sure that all of your needs are taken care of. You will be in our hands from start to finish. This option is great for someone who isn't comfortable traveling alone.
