

Cheewa James was invited to speak at a gathering of Bayer Corporation team leaders. She was asked to help the group see the importance and benefit of rewarding and recognizing their team members. Ms. James seamlessly wove this topic, along with leadership and motivation, into an enlightening and captivating presentation. Based on the feedback received from the team members, this was the highlight of the two-day gathering.

It is obvious that Cheewa is a skilled motivational speaker. She easily adapted to the particular needs of this audience and helped to make the meeting a success.

—David Fox, Diagnostics Division, Bayer Corporation