

In the midst of global unrest, Edge Factor is...

1) Unlocking FREE family-friendly videos

Inspire hope, showcase career pathways, teach soft skills, and more! Students, parents, job-seekers, K-12 and postsecondary educators, businesses, and community leaders can watch and share selected FREE story-driven tools on edgefactor.com. Choose the character on the bench that best represents you or share a link to the Student experience: edgefactor.com/student-browse.

2) Helping schools access e-learning tools:

If you're a K-12 or postsecondary school educator, you can also access specially selected free tools on edgefactor.com/k-12-browse. To access and share our full library of videos and activities, assign content to students, monitor metrics, and add profiles on your School and Programs, Edge Factor memberships are available to purchase for schools and districts. Contact us!

Share the Student Experience today

Our goal is to engage students and families at home with cinematic, career-centered content and inspire them with real-life stories.

Please spread some good news with your network today by sharing this link: edgefactor.com/student-browse
