

YOU AND MY HEART

It's been broken
It's been taken for granted
It's been swollen like the ocean, when the full moon, and high tide happens together

When filled with love, instead of being heavy,
    it becomes lighter than a feather

It's been stolen,
    by the sweet words of a lover It's been offered up for free, as a token of persuasion It's been deceived, by intentions that were less than honorable

It's just something that my heart
    has been going through Since I fell, so hard for you

It's been poured out, until my soul was empty Water spilled from my eyes, until my well of tears ran dry

It's been filled with pain and sorrow, and so deftly misunderstood It's been caught in awe, and many times, it skipped a beat

When filled with passion, it's warmer than, ..... smile
When consumed with desire, it becomes magnetic, like your eyes

It's just something that my heart
    has been going through
Since I fell, so hard for you
