Whether in-person or virtually, ATCE is an incredible opportunity to connect with colleagues and experts in your own field and across disciplines. From discussion boards to virtual meet-ups, we keep attendees connected and engaged.

Each year, our ATCE attracts hundreds of early childhood development and family engagement experts, professionals, parents and partners throughout the region and around the country. It is this unique gathering of participants which gives our conference its energy and wide-reach. Join us to learn new strategies, expand your network, discover new resources, as well as explore quality initiatives and best practices.
