ANNUAL MEETING

FEATURING AUTHOR

GEORGE FRAZIER

Thursday, Nov, 9th at 7:00p.m. in the Archer Room

Everyone is welcome, refreshments will be served.

Since the last wild bison found refuge on the back of a nickel, the public image of natural Kansas has progressed from great American desert to dust bowl to flyover country that has been landscaped, fenced, and farmed. But look a little harder, George Frazier suggests, and you can find the last places where tenacious stretches of prairie, forest, and wetland cheat death and incubate the DNA of lost wild America. Documenting three years spent roaming the state in search of these hidden treasures, The last Wild Places of Kansas is Frazier's idiosyncratic and eye-opening travelogue of nature's secret holdouts in the Sunflower State.

These are places where flying squirrels leap between centuries-old trees lit by the unearthly green glow of foxfire; where cold springs feed ancient watercress pools; where the ice moon paints the Smoky Hills with memories of the buffalo, wolf, and the lonesome rattle of false indigo; where the blue lid of the sky forms a vacuum seal over treeless pastel hills, orange in winter and where bluestem rises. Some of these places are impossible to find on maps. True wildernesses they may not be, but at the correct angle of light, when the wind blows pollen carrying biological memories of the glaciers, these places are a crack between the worlds, portals to the lost buffalo wilderness.

A great opportunity to buy educational stocking stuffers for the kids and grandkids! It has been suggested that instead of going overboard for Christmas, a good guide is to give – something they want, something they need, something to wear and something to READ!
