Hanging/Presentation Specifications

Due to space considerations only one piece may be large with a maximum size of 40 (W) x70 (L) inches

- A sturdy slat, 1/2" shorter than the width of the quilt, should be inserted into the sleeve. It should have holes drilled about 1/2" from each end, just above the center of the slat, 1/8 to 1/4" diameter Larger pieces need a thicker slat.

- A label should be secured to the back of the work, or anywhere on wearables. It should have the artist's name, title of the piece and any other information you want to include.

- Check for (and remove) any stray threads, pet hair, etc. Make sure embellishments are very secure.

- Large quilts may be folded any way you like. Bias folding is felt by some to produce less pronounced fold lines which hang out nicely. Rolling is a great method for art quilts if not too big. The quilt should be rolled with the right side out, using a pool noodle, cardboard tube (from carpet store works well), or anything that provides some bulk to roll the quilt around. If there is a lot of embellishment use a piece of muslin or old bath towel to protect the right side before rolling the whole thing up. The rolled quilt can then be placed in a long bag or wrapped in a large towel or piece of fabric. The roll can be secured with ties made from fabric (selvages + 1/2") or old nylons, etc. Do this before the outer bag, or after, or both.

- Label all packaging materials with your name and title of the piece. This is so they can be re-used to wrap your piece after the show comes down. Unlabeled packing materials can't be matched with the correct quilt. Optionally, a photo of the piece may also be securely attached to the outer wrapping for identification.
- Anything larger than 18"x20" needs to be folded or rolled. Smaller pieces that you want to remain flat should be secured to a firm surface and placed in a bag. It is not always possible to keep works horizontal in transporting and storage.
- Plastic outer wrappings can make transporting and storing multiple quilts difficult, especially for larger pieces. Cloth outer wrappings are preferred.

Other Entries

- Pedestals will be available for sculptural/3D work.
- Artist must provide dress form, quilt hanger, hat or torso forms or other special display if needed.
- If you have questions or need assistance please email us as soon as possible at least 10 days in advance info@wayne-arts.com
