Sleep Sales spins off diagnostic testing monitoring software division under name Sky Tele-health Systems

Long Island, New York, March 26, 2014 – Sleep Sales a New York wholesaler of home sleep testing diagnostic equipment announced the launch of Sky Tele-health Systems a program that allows physicians to better monitor their patients from screening to identify patients at risk for specific medical conditions to diagnostic testing, thus increasing compliance through the use of telemedicine.

"Our focus from the very beginning has been to put together a program utilizing modern healthcare technology that can assist physicians to screen and identify patients who may benefit from diagnostic testing in primary care, which can prevent costly medical conditions from developing", was a statement released by Claudia Jimenez Vice President of strategic education and outreach partnerships.

Sleep Sales provides diagnostic testing equipment to physicians and wholesalers through distribution.

Sky Tele-health Systems provides medical professionals with a HIPAA compliant diagnostic testing monitoring solution, from screening to treatment, increasing compliance through telemedicine.
