BY-LAWS

CHAPTER I - MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the IMPBA may be obtained in the following manner:

- A. An individual wishing membership in the IMPBA may do so upon application to the Executive Secretary, and with the remittance of the proper dues. Individuals may also join IMPBA at sanctioned races by filling out a membership application and paying the correct dues. The application and payment must be mailed to the IMPBA Office by the host club the first working day after accepted.
- B. A club's request for membership must be accompanied by a completed Club Registration and Insurance Application form and must list 5 current IMPBA voting members. The President of an IMPBA registered club must be a member of IMPBA. Club registration with the new officers list is due at the IMPBA office by January 31.

CHAPTER II - MEMBERSHIP DUES

- A. Dues are payable by January 1 of each year.
- B. Dues will be $50.00 per year for renewing senior membership prior to 1 January. (See Membership Application in Section M). New/Renewing members after 1 Jan $60.00 per year. All Late Season senior memberships after Sept. 1 will be $30 for the remainder of the year.
- C. Family Rate: The Senior member's spouse, and his/her children under 18 residing at the same address may be added to the membership for $10.00 each. First family member is designated as primary member.
- D. Junior Rates: $10.00 per year for persons 18 and under who does not have the opportunity to join under the family rate plan.
- E. Club dues or registration charge is $50.00 per year. If paid for before January 1, dues will receive a $10.00 discount to $40.00.
- F. The above dues include IMPBA Commercial General Liability and Property Damage Insurance.
- G. Members of the Executive Board shall not pay dues while in office. With the President receiving a life membership.
- H. Paid members of other boating organizations may pay $15.00 for a Single-event membership, allowing running in that event only. The application and payment must be mailed to the IMPBA office by the host club the first working day after accepted.
- I. All IMPBA clubs are to insure contestants are paid-up members of IMPBA or have a current membership card with another boating organization. Clubs must have contestant's show their membership cards during check in. If they do not have a card, then they must fill in an application and pay their dues. If clubs are caught violating this procedure then the following will apply: No matter the number of infractions at an event it will only be counted as one (1) with the exception of safety rules.
 - 1. First infraction: a written warning to the club from the president and a notation for the IMPBA office to keep on file.
 - 2. Second infraction: loss of all race sanctions for the following year (for the club).
 - 3. Third infraction: loss of club registration/sanctions for 1 year with a letter to the lake site owner informing them that the club is no longer covered by insurance while also listing the reason why.

- J. Contestants that knowingly attempt to enter an IMPBA event under false pretense and are later caught will also face the following penalties:
1. First infraction: Loss of IMPBA membership from the time of the offense for one (1) year. Also the loss of the "single-event" privilege if the member has a membership in another boating organization for the same time period, and no refund of membership monies.
 2. Second infraction: Loss of IMPBA membership from the time of the offense for three (3) years. Also the loss of the "single-event" privilege if the member has a membership in another boating organization for the same time period, and no refund of membership monies.
